Santa Claus Will Visit Appomattox Dec. 14

Yes, Boys and Girls! Santa Claus is coming to Appomattox, and it won't be long, now! On Friday, Dec. 14 at 7 o'clock Santa will ride down the main street of town to Marshall's Department Store. The Appomattox High School band will be playing familiar carols and lively Yuletide tunes.

Open House

Santa will have candy for all his friends, and Marshall's Store will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. so that everyone can meet Santa and hear the high school band play.

The High School band and majorettes have become increasingly popular during the time that Mrs. Joyce Bingham has been director. They will march in the Brookneal Christmas parade tomorrow, Friday, evening, and have many other plans made for the coming holiday season.

Marshall's Toyland has been open for more than a week as have the other toy centers in town. Christmas trees have appeared in shop windows, with evidence of holiday buying throughout the many stores in Appomattox.

Christmas lights went on during the week giving a holiday glow to main street.

Legion Invites Public To Hear Special Speaker

American Legion Post No. 104 of Appomattox, will hold a joint meeting with the Legion Ladies Auxiliary at 7:30 p.m. on the evening of Monday, Dec. 10,1962 at the Post Home in Appomattox.

Mr. Don Bowles, of the American Red Cross Blood Center in Roanoke will be the guest speaker. He will explain the Red Cross Blood Doner's Program, and how it benefits our community.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting, as it is a most commendable program that the Red Cross sponsors and we of the American Legion, and the Ladies Auxiliary urge all citizens to lend their support to this most worthwhile program.

In the past, during the visits of the Red Cross Bloodmobile this county has donated only about 30 per cent of its quota. This is a serious situation, and some of our good citizens may someday need blood which will not be available.

It is felt that a better understanding of this program and how it operates will be beneficial in helping to meet our quota in the future.

3 Plead Guilty To "Spotlighting"

Three county men pleaded guilty in County Court Nov. 28 to attempting to kill deer at night with the aid of flashlights and 22 rifles. All three were sentenced to 60 days in jail, suspended on the condition that they not hunt for the remainder of the current season, and they were given fines of $250 each.

Judge Crawley said, "I don't like the idea of taking advantage of the deer." The only way to stop this is to impose a stiff penalty."

The Appomattox High School Rebels lost their opening game of the 1962-63 season last Tuesday 58-44 on the visitor's court. In a preliminary contest the Rebels J. V.'s won 20-18 in Coach Bob Montgomery's debut.

With the Statesmen putting 3 men in double figures, it was a bit more than the Rebel quintet could handle. Ed Harding dumped in 22 points from the outside while W. D. Pendleu and Bill Daulton stuffed in 18 and 10 points respectively on the inside.

The Rebels made a game of it for three quarters with James Whitehead and Phillip Lucado doing most of the scoring. Whitehead pumped in 18 points while Lucado and Farrar hit 14 and 8 respectively. The Rebels held a two point edge going into the last quarter but the taller and more experienced Randolph-Henry quintet came out hungry. The Rebels hung on until 3 minutes were left in the game and then the floor caved in.

It was a well played game by both clubs as both displayed a tremendous amount of "desire" and hustle and "teamwork". The play under the back boards was ferocious with Farrar, Lucado, Rodgers and Hesson fighting the threesome of Daulton Harding and Perdieu.

The Rebels will entertain the Rustburg High School Red Devils Friday night in their District opener. Come and support your team.

Charges Dismissed

All charges were dismissed against Kelly O'Brien, 18, charged with felonious assault on Oct. 19. The Appomattox County grand jury meeting Tues. and Wed. rendered "not a true bill" before Judge Joel Flood Wed. morning.

Double Trouble For Santa?

Santa should have no trouble as far as the Phelps twins are concerned, He won't have to remember who wants what, because they are very much in agreement. Both Connie and Bonnie, fifth graders at the Appomattox Elementary School and daughters of the Enid Phelps, say they are looking forward to some new clothes. So Santa: "You can send those new dresses and skirts and blouses and such two by two, and incidently, make them exactly alike!" The girls cheerfully agreed to pose with traditional holiday trimmings during a recent excursion to the shops and stores in Appomattox.

Forestry Club Organized

Wood growers and forestry officials look over plans for the newly organized Forestry Club of Appomattox County. Carroll Mays, representing West Va. Pulp and Paper Co. and host for the organizational dinner Nov 26. is pictured beside Jim Smith, Appomattox County Agent and Thomas Jamerson, of Burruss Lumber Co. which is offering prizes for good timber management during the coming year. Behind them are Jimmy Martin, 4-H Member, Clayton Martin, wood buyer for Kelly's Wood Yard, D. J. Franklin, pulpwood grower, and Thomas Lucado, Appomattox FFA president.

Abbitt Speaks At P. O. Dedication

About 150 persons gathered Saturday for dedication of a new post office at Prospect.

Postmaster Frank Coleman said that the brick building, leased from J. Nat Wilkerson, of Prospect, would begin distributing mail by the first of the year. He said there is slight possibility of mail service here before Christmas.

Joseph P. Rochecharlie, postal service officer of the Washington region, praised the job done by Postmaster General Edward Day and said the new facility shows the "federal government has confidence in your community."

Rep. Watkins Abbitt, who took a personal interest in federal approval of the Prospect post office, endorsed better postal service at the community level.

Abbitt then gave a scathing denunciation of increased federal control over states.

In an apparent reference to a federal court decision last week declaring Virginia's redistricting law inequitable, Abbitt said that "during the past week," demonstrate the design of the federal courts to abrogate "unto themselves powers never intended by the Constitution."

Bill Williamson Is Oustanding Young Farmer

Bill Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Williamson, of Route 4, Appomattox, has been selected as the outstanding young farmer by the Appomattox Young Farmer Association. This is the highest honor that a local association can confer upon one of its members. Bill has received this honor for the second consecutive year. He has a general farming operation which he manages in partnership with his father.

R. B. Carter, instructor of vocational agriculture and adviser to the Association, states that Bill has shown outstanding leadership in Young Farmer activities. He is a past president of the Appomattox Association and is now serving as president of the Southside Area Young Farmer Association.

In addition to his activities in the Young Farmer Association, Bill is active in Church and civic activities. He is a member of the Red Oak Baptist Church, and treasurer of the Oakville Baptist Club. Several years ago, he was selected to participate in the IBM farm management program under the supervision of the Agricultural Extension Service at V. P. I.

At the Southside area meeting on Friday, December 7, at Buckingham High School, Bill will be a candidate for the area outstanding young farmer award. The winner in the area will then be a candidate for the state outstanding young farmer award.

AHS P-TA Meets

More than 100 parents, teachers, and students attended the annual room visitation at Appomattox High School Monday night.

P-TA members voted to contribute to the State P-TA Scholarship Fund. Sandra Staton, a 1962 AHS graduate now attending Madison College is a local scholarship winner, the P-TA secretary stated.

1963 Wheat Program

The diversion and price - support payments available to farmers who take part in the 1963 wheat stabilization program will offer income protection no matter what natural disaster might affect their crop output, J. A. Martin, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, pointed out today.

The diversion payment — for reducing wheat acreage and putting it to an approved conservation use — will be figured on the farm's established wheat yield per acre (based on 1959-60) times one - half the county price-support loan rate times the diverted wheat acreage.

Likewise, the extra price-support payment — to wheat growers who participate in the wheat diversion program and who are also in compliance with their wheat acreage allotment — will be made at the rate of 18 cents per bushel on the normal yield of the farm's 1963 wheat acreage.

These payments, the Chairmen explained, supplement the regular price - support loans and purchase agreements which will be available to farmers complying with their farm acreage allotment for the 1963 wheat crop. The national average price support is $1.82 per bushel. The rate in Appomattox County is usually about 15 cents per bushel above the national average, Mr. Martin noted.

As approved by wheat farmers in a referendum last August, marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1963 wheat crop, and the 1962 wheat crop. They will be made to wheat farmers who reduce their wheat acreage by at least 20 per cent and put the diverted acres to an approved conservation use. As in 1962, farmers may receive half of their acreage - diversion payment at the time they sign up to participate in the program.

A new feature for 1963 - crop wheat will be an additional price-support payment of 18 cents per bushel on the normal production of the 1963 wheat acreage of farmers participating in the wheat - diversion program, provided they are also in compliance with their wheat allotment. This is a separate payment from the regular price - support loans and purchase agreements which will be available to growers who comply with the acreage allotments. The "bonus" price support will be based on a national aversice of $1.82 per bushel.

The rate in Virginia usually varie by counties from 16 to 18 cents per bushel above the national average.

The Chairman cautions farmers to be sure to divert the full acreage for which they sign up in the 1963 wheat stabilization program. A change from the 1962 program provides that if a farmer does not divert the full signed - up acreage, he will not be eligible for price support nor will he receive acreage - diversion or wheat price - support payments.

The signup period for the diversion program for winter wheat will continue through December 14. Farmers are urged to get in touch with local ASCS county offices regarding any questions they may have about the program.

Bank Of Appomattox Opens Hillcrest Branch

As Told to TIMES VIRGINIAN

About three generations ago we understand that there were six Bar Rooms operating here in what we know as the Town of Appomattox. Around the turn of this century the bar rooms were out - lawed.

Bar Room to Main Street to Hillcrest Area

One of those former Bar Rooms north of the railroad tracks was the first banking quarters occupied by the Bank of Appomattox in 1901. At the Stockholders' meeting on November 6, 1901, it was unanimously voted to remodel its rented quarters, cutting a hole through the floor to erect a brick vault, said vault to have a metal door. Those temporary facilities functioned all right; in fact they later served as our local post office for many years.

In November, 1906, The Bank of Appomattox occupied a new brick building at its present location on Main Street, it being the first brick building down town. The Appomattox Courthouse was the first brick building in town.

In 1952 the present main office was completely renovated and modernized. In 1962 progress and rapid change s in a "fast age of travel", created a demand for convenient Drive - In facilities. The main banking offices were not adaptable for this, and so The Bank of Appomattox recognized this problem and has cheerfully faced up to the situation.

In all instances where the financial needs of this trade area were at stake, The Bank of Appomattox has taken steps to meet the demand. That explains the additional Banking Facilities at The Hillcrest Branch. To those who have observed the progress of the Bank throughout these past sixty odd years, its quarters, both Main Office and Branch, tell the story in a most effective way.

In providing these added facilities no expense has been spared in their effort to make it as attractive as possible so that it would fit into the fine neighborhood in which it is located. Much remains to be done in future landscaping, plans for which are now in process.

According to the Bank's management, since the unsightly trailer was first placed on the premises, four months ago, The Bank of Appomattox has never had better, or more advantageous, in any program. They have appreciated the interest and comments on such an "Ugly Duckling". They could have started operations much sooner, without having to do anything other than connecting electricity water and sewage, but had this been done the community would have had every reason to have been highly incensed, and the dignity of local Banking would have been largely destroyed. Through the years, the Bank of Appomattox has never done anything by the half-measure and its future Progressive Boardards shall remain unchanged.

64 Donated Blood

Sixty - four donors replenished Red Cross supplies of whole blood and its many derivatives during the visit of the Bloodmobile here on Friday, Nov. 30.

Chairman Jim Cobb expressed his thanks to these 64 and the other 13 or more people who offered blood but were turned down.

The wife of a former Spout Spring resident, Mrs. Robert P. Shirley, expressed her appreciation to blood doners in a recently published article. The victim of a car accident, she has had numerous blood transfusions furnished by one of the Lynchburg hospitals which utilizes Red Cross blood supplies collected in Appomattox and the other localities in the Appalachian Region. Mrs. Henry White and Policemen of Appomattox, Henry White and E. E. Wallace.

Citizen's Radio Band Helps Give Fast Communication For Police

Newest development in fast communication between trouble and the policemen of Appomattox is the Citizen's Band Radio set pictured above, together with the people who operate it. Mrs. Henry White is seated at the desk. Nearby is the sending and receiving set for 3-W-367, the call letters for policeman Henry White as he cruises on patrol in Appomattox. Standing next to White is E. E. Wallace, the stand-by officer who works with White.

If you need White, telephone 352-7414 or Wallace, telephone 352-7417. If you're in your car equipped with a citizen's Band radio, you can soon be in direct touch with the local police during the hours they are on duty. They can receive calls on Channels 4, 11, 12, and 22.

Mrs. White relays many telephone calls to White via radio. This radio communication has already helped many times, they say, in dealing with motorists having difficulty on the highways and in keeping down potential trouble on such busy occasions as ball game nights and Halloween.

Previous to this, the only signal the Whites could employ effectively was to turn on the porch light of White's home, if he were needed as he made his rounds. A policeman is on duty each day from 4 p.m. to midnight.
